MUNICIPAL BOND ELECTION IS CALLED ARE CLASHING

COUNCIL CALLS ELECTION
FOR AUGUST 10 TO VOTE
BONDS FOR BUYING OR BUILDING.

IT IS NOW UP TO PEOPLE

Municipal Ownership, Or Not, Is A Question Soon To Be Settled In Dodge City.

The city council has taken definite action on the waterworks proposition, to the extent of calling an election to vote bonds for purchasing or constructing works for supplying the city with water and light. This action was taken at an adjourned meeting of the council on last Thursday night. The time for holding the election will be on August 10, and it is now up to the people to have their say in the matter. There is, apparently no doubt that the bonds will carry. The amount asked for is $100,000, or so much of that sum as may be necessary, the bonds to be payable in thirty years.

No further action has been taken in the deal with the present water company. The company was not represented at the last meeting, and the matter stands as it did with $50,000, between the council and the company on the purchase of the plant. Whether the council and the water company will get together on the deal remains to be seen. If the bonds carry, it will then be up to the council to decide whether to purchase the present plant or build a new outfit. Mr. Theis, at a meeting of the council sometime ago stated that he would be willing, on agreement with the council, to bring a friendly suit, so that the court might decide as to whether the company has a franchise or not. If the council should buy the present plant this would not be necessary, but if they should not buy it, such a suit would have to be gone through with and it would be advantageous to the city to have the matter settled as quickly as possible.

The official notice of the election appears in this issue, giving the voting places for the different wards. The citizens have talked a great deal in the past about the matter, and they should take an interest in the election and vote for what they believe is for the interest of the town.

From the expression heard for some months past, the sentiment appears to be strong for municipal ownership. The citizens will have from now to August 10 to study the matter and decide how they want to vote.

DEATH OF MRS. GISSEL

Passed Away Tuesday Forenoon, After A Short Illness. Funeral Yesterday.

Mrs. Letitia N. Gissel, wife of John Gissel, of this place, passed away from life on Tuesday, July 13, at 11:40 A. M., after a short illness. Mrs. Gissel's maiden name was Letitia N. Cowdrey, and she was born in Ohio 55 years ago. She was married to John Gissel, who survives her, August 27, 1867, at Chester, Ohio, and came with him to Kansas in 1884. They lived first in Harper county, going from there to Meade in 1886. In 1891 they moved to Dodge City where they have since that time resided. Mrs. Gissel was a woman whose life was in her home. She enjoyed her close friends, but was happier in her home, and seldom left it. She was a member of the Episcopal church before coming to Kansas, but had not united with the church at this place.

Funeral services were held from the home, 506 Seventh avenue, yesterday afternoon at 2:30, conducted by Rev. Benstead. A lady quartet from the Episcopal choir sang "Nearer My God To Thee" which had always been Mrs. Gissel's favorite hymn. The pall bearers were selected from the members of the Masonic lodge here.

OFF FOR LAND DRAWING

A Nice Trip and the Enticing Idea of Drawing One of the Prize Indian Land Claims.

Dodge City will send quite a crowd of representatives to the drawing of Indian land claims, and they will begin going next Sunday. Among those who will make the trip will be Clyde Hammond, T. E. French, R. S. Crane, Cash Waring, John Miller, Carl Turner, J. M. Kirkpatrick, Frank Martin, Richard Boddyfield and a dozen others. John W. Wright, W. H. Lord and a number of others will empower some of the others to register for them, under the right they have as soldiers.

Judge Finley will register for the drawing, and probably other Spanish American soldiers from this place.

The Dodge crowd has been getting information by personal letters from acquaintances who are living in the western country. It is said that in one of the allotments there will be claims worth as high as $25,000, so that the drawing has something of the "capital prize" feature of the old time lotteries.

There will no doubt be thousands who register that will not draw claims as there are always more people than claims at the land drawings, but here is hoping that the Dodge fellows will all draw claims, and that one of the number will pull down a "capital prize."

ANOTHER NICE RAIN.

This Year Is Certainly Making A Noise Like A Real Corn Year, In Ford County

Another fine shower of rain came last night, keeping up the record of just enough and not too much for the corn crop. The weather bureau reports the rain of Tuesday night .92 of an inch, and this will make the corn boom for another two weeks. The corn is in tassels in some places in the county, and everywhere it is looking very healthy and growing rapidly.

The prospect is better every week for that 1,000,000 bushels of corn for this county, that this paper has been talking about.

BASE BALL GAME

Dodge City and Ingalls Will Play Here July 18. Will Be a Fine Game.

The Dodge City ball team is getting in shape to meet a strong team, and expects to have a real game at the grounds here on July 18, beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The visiting team will come from Ingalls, but will have a number of strong players from different towns west of here.

The home boys claim that they have the best team this town has had in several years.

GAS WELL GOING DOWN

Tubing Is Down Now 740 Feet Below the Surface, and Drilling Will Start Again This Evening.

The workmen at the gas well thought at noon today that everything would be favorable now for going down a few hundred feet farther. The well is piped down to about 740 feet, and it is hoped that the water is shut off so that it will not bother for a while. They are bailing out the water this afternoon, and will probably get started at drilling this evening. The work is being well handled and the people who are interested hope to make a lot of progress during the next week.

LOST BOTH LEGS.

Boy Who Rode Santa Fe Number 10 Passenger Train Out Here Monday Night Got Under Wheels.

James Serry, a boy of seventeen years was run over by Number 10 Monday night at St. John. Both legs were crushed so badly that amputation was necessary, and his arms were badly mangled, but may be saved. The boy's home is in California. He had been in the wheat fields here and was trying to beat his way further east.

TWO RAILROAD PROJECTS ARE IN A HEAD ON COLLISION.

THEY SHOULD GET TOGETHER

They Have a Week Now to Decide on What They Want to Do.

The Southwest railroad proposition will be hanging in the balance for the next two weeks. To the people of the great commonwealth comprised of the several counties through which it was proposed to build this road, the next six days may be looked upon as a crises. It matters little to these people whether one man or another builds the road, so that it is built. If the road is built the country owned by these people will become a great territory, and will be known as one of the finest districts of Kansas. If it is not built now, it may be several years before the proposition is taken up again.

The way the matter stands now, two different crowds want to build the road. Mr. Brown heads a crowd that proposes a portion of the land along the route shall secure the money for the building. His plan will build the road providing the people get together and back it. No one would lose a cent by doing so. On the other hand, they would double their wealth, and more.

Mr. Weller, of Denver, heads the other crowd, and proposes to take options for buying a portion of the land of the different counties through which the road is to run. His plan would build the road, if the heavy land owners were united and would give the options, providing, of course that Mr. Weller can secure the backing which he says he can secure. This paper does not know whether he can or can not, and it is unprejudiced. The sensible thing for people who are interested to do is to investigate and find out about him.

The trouble is that the people along the proposed route should stand together on one proposition or the other. Everybody along the line knows Mr. Brown. He is one of their number and they all believe in him personally, but some of them prefer the Weller's plan to the Brown plan. It is claimed that some of the Haskell county men have investigated Mr. Weller's standing, and are satisfied with what they have learned.

At Santa Fe next Wednesday a meeting is to be held to decide upon which plan to follow. This would be all right if the people would get together. But the probability is that they will not get together. Instead of doing so they are likely to get further apart. Haskell county is the key to the situation. If that county stood solid together for some one plan, it could combine with two of the other counties west from there and the road could be built. If the people of Haskell county refuse to get together, they can do much to discourage the building of the road, possibly prevent it.

The road is of importance to Dodge City, and the people here would like to see it built. They would be glad to work with the people of the counties southwest on any plan that will insure it. The business men here are somewhat like the people of Haskell county. Some of them favor the Brown plan and others favor the Weller plan. But the people here will all favor the plan that the southwest counties unite on. Mr. Brown has a lot of warm personal friends in Dodge City who have faith in him, but he himself has said that if any one has a better plan than his for building the road, it is alright with him for it to be built that way.

There should be a heavy lot of thinking and investigating in Haskell county between now and next Wednesday. The people should decide what will be best, and all act together. The road is possible now if the people who want it, by disagreeing among themselves, do not prevent it being built.

The Rebekahs had a large attendance at their meeting last night. It was the night for installing the new officers elected in May, but owing to the absence of the installing officer, the installation was postponed until a later date. After the regular work of the lodge, a social time was enjoyed, and the supper was served that had been prepared to follow the installation ceremonies. The new officers are: Mrs. Geo. Stewart, noble grand; Mrs. Frank Straulman, vice grand; Mrs. Doolittle, treasurer; Joe Holpieu, secretary.
